CONSERVATION CONTRIBUTIONS

At Life Form Taxidermy, the production of world-renowned taxidermy excellence is not our sole purpose. We are also fully committed to conservation initiatives that ensure the ongoing protection and preservation of wild animals and wild places by providing aid, support and assistance to the men and women campaigning constantly on the anti-poaching battlefields. These are our 'brothers-in-arms', our tribe... and we are proud and honored to be immersed in their cause. This page is dedicated to Life-Form's Conservation Purpose. While taxidermy is our core business, taxidermy can only exist in a world where healthy ecosystems prevail, supporting an abundance of wildlife. These include:

Sabie Game Park Counter-poaching Unit:

Life-Form Taxidermy proudly supports this counter-poaching unit with its hands-on, boots-on-the-ground approach to conserving wildlife, including the last remaining white and black Rhino in Mozambique. Pivotal in this objective, is simultaneous engagement and conservation-education of local communities. Without 'feet-on-the-ground, the conservation battle is lost...

Mashambanzou Safaris Anti-poaching Unit:

Four different concessions with a total of 70 full time rangers between the areas. In their Niassa concession they are one of only 3 safari operators in Mozambique that is running SMART satellite tracking and monitoring of rangers as well as EARTHRANGER for real time locations on scouts as well as collared animals. With the support of Life-Form Taxidermy, providing quality clothing and footwear to the rangers, they have been able to maintain their boots on the ground throughout the whole of the 2020 pandemic lock down.

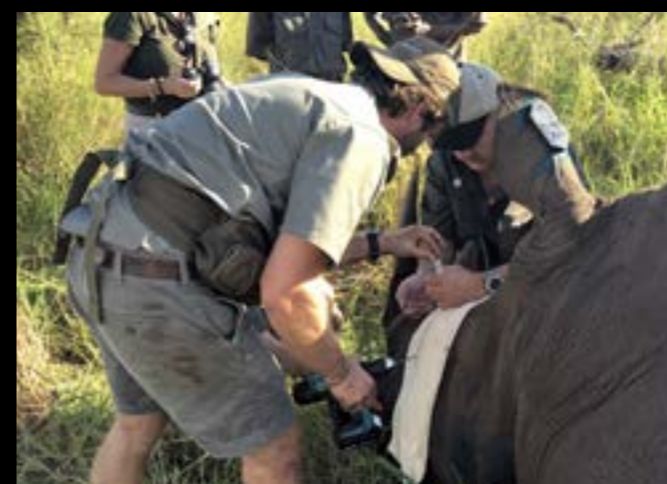

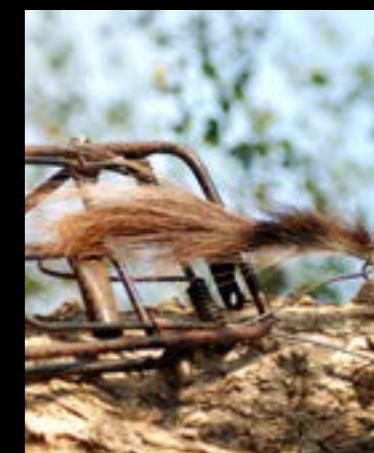

Kambako Law Enforcement Unit:

Faced with torrential rainfall for four months of the year, the never ending Miombo forest, thick and abundant riverine, granite mountains and rolling grassland is what the Kambako Law Enforcement Unit face on a daily basis. The unit covers a range more than 1.5 million acres, a conservation effort of mammoth proportion. Their efforts here are targeting not only the anti-poaching of wildlife, but also upon combatting illegal timber harvesting, stopping the non-sustainable fishing activities. Life-Form Taxidermy is happy to help in clothing this unit to battle the harsh environment and ever changing elements.

Zambeze Delta Anti-poaching Unit:

Spearheaded by renowned conservationist Mark Haldane, who has dedicated 27 years of his life to the restoration of a unique ecosystem formerly decimated by the Mozambican Civil War. His successes portray an unprecedented example of how the shattered ecology of several hundred thousand acres has been miraculously resurrected to its former glory - wildlife populations have increased by almost 3000 percent!! This due directly to concerted anti-poaching efforts and community engagement. Life-Form Taxidermy is proud to have sponsored a portion of the fuel for the running of their helicopters as well as clothing for the unit.

A World Renowned Taxidermist and Passionate Guardian of the Hunters' Dream.

We thank you for your dedication to the true meaning of conservation, for indeed by simply participating in an African Safari you have become one of the number of conservationists, seldom recognised by the uneducated, but deeply appreciated by the conservationists on the front line.

We welcome you to the ancient order of African hunters, people who understand what it takes to become an integral part of the circle of life, people who understand that moment, where, after years of planning, thousands of miles traveled, days of hunting which often entails hours and hours of stalking...The focus of your intention is finally in front of you – as your cross hairs steady, as you take a deep breath and squeeze the trigger, you become a significant part of that circle of life!

We at Life-Form Taxidermy, understand this and deeply appreciate what an honor it is to have the responsibility of creating something unique for you, something worthy of your memories and the effort that it took to capture them.

The following pages are more than just images of clients' trophies, naturally, they are memories, precious and hard earned.

Our Family

Cecil Corringham

At Life-Form Taxidermy, our quest for creative excellence will never cease! Over 4 decades of constant improvement has moulded a specialist team with a 'can do' attitude, a team that understands hunting, and understands the perfection of world-class taxidermy - a team that has made us proud worldwide. Thank you for entrusting us with the memories of your hunt..."
Cecil Corringham - CEO

Jerry Mgwenya

"I started my career at Life-Form Taxidermy almost 30 years ago as a Skinner. Today I look back at the team that we have built, and I hope that with all my heart that each and every one of our team can look at my journey and strive to be the best that they can."
Jerry Mgwenya
 - Managing Director

Yolandi Krause

"Since 2001- Golden years at Life-Form Taxidermy and what an amazing journey it has been. Irrespective of the years of experience I have gained, it will always remain my passion to learn and understand this industry, as it is ever-changing and dynamic."

Specializing in import and export regulations both Nationally and Internationally was and still is my key to success.

The foundation of my character and work ethic, will remain to guide and support my team - motivating and encouraging them to strive for service excellence"
 - General Manager

Carine Potgieter

Laughter is the Language of the soul

"Since I can remember, I'd always start my day with a good laugh or chuckle. I have been with the Life-Form Taxidermy team for 15 years now and can honestly say I love what I do."

Enjoying specializing in Finance and Accounting, I also have the privilege of walking alongside our director, striving to keep Life-Form Taxidermy ahead in our industry. As for our team, I always have everyone's best interests at heart."
 - Financial Manager

Reynier van Rensburg

"I am part of a passionate team that ensures Creative Excellence within this exciting environment. Always improving keeps us ahead of the rest, providing our clients with the best quality on time everytime. Harmonizing all the key aspects related to production provides each day with its own challenges. We create a vision, articulate the vision and relentlessly drive it to perfection."
"Guarding the Hunters' Dreams"
 - Studio Manager

Andre Meintjes

"I have been a professional wildlife artist since 2000, and I enjoy using my skills to contribute to the exciting world of taxidermy at Life-Form. Since a child I have been inspired by the many Game Parks in Southern Africa where I take joy in photography and study animal behaviour for my artwork. This has helped me educate other employees to perfect tiny details to make our work as realistic as possible, with quality control my top priority"
 - Creative Project Manager

At Life-Form Taxidermy our strength is in our team! We have over 100 years of taxidermy Import/Export administrative experience, ensuring that the receipt of your trophies is trouble-free to your door. This secures us, head and shoulders above the rest.

WHY MOUNT MEDIX?

Mount Medix LLC is a company founded, to move the taxidermy industry into a familiar era, by producing high quality products made from natural ingredients to treat insect infestation in taxidermy mounts – resulting in insect proof mounts. These products validate proactive protection and prevention methods.

The Protector and Maintenance product range - renowned and trusted, has been integrated into the Life-Form Taxidermy PTY LTD, production line for years now and plays an integral part as an additional trophy enhancement (treatment), in aid of our mission to preserve client trophies for a lifetime. It has become synonymous with the Life-Form Taxidermy brand.

THE MOUNT SAVER™

This Mount Saver product line, was created by leading natural product development scientists, in conjunction with professional taxidermists, such as Life-Form Taxidermy, by adapting an existing potent natural taxidermy insecticide, to the needs of the taxidermy industry, for over a decade.

THE MOUNT PROTECTOR™

Mount Protector is an excellent mount cleaning aid. A misting of this product on a mount will also provide protection from insects along with hair and hide conditioner and moisturizers.

Fade Protector is a product to hinder light damage on taxidermy mounts. This is a preventative measure as in most cases, exposure to natural or artificial light will accelerate damage and is not reversable. May be used a minimum of once or twice a year.

Both Mount and Fade protector products are available in a variety of sizes and have excellent shelf life. The kits are the most economical method to receive the full range of maintenance products, and these are readily available from Life-Form Taxidermy and are recommended to our valued clients, for inclusion into their trophy crates, at a nominal fee.
